

NEXT LEAP TRAINING SOLUTIONS

You are invited to join us for a FREE SEMINAR

“ It’s all about Communication ”

Are you communicating or just talking?

- Do you sometimes get the feeling that people aren't listening to you?
- When there's conflict do you sometimes respond with negative behaviour that may escalate the situation?
- Do you experience negative behaviour from others and not sure how to respond or react?
- Are there times when you can't understand where the other person is coming from; in fact, you might as well be speaking a different language.

Let us introduce you to the world's premier tool that is based on Human Behaviour, so powerful it has been used by NASA and is applied today through many industries and social environments..

The Process Communication Model® (PCM).

PCM is a behaviour-based method that allows us to be more self-aware, to have better self-management skills and to manage others more efficiently, providing you with many benefits and values to both your professional and personal life.

At Next Leap Training Solutions, we facilitate “best in class” seminars focusing on Communication, Teamwork and Leadership that deliver immediate results with measurable outcomes!
