KALGIN ACQUIRES QUEENSLAND INT’L FREIGHT SERVICES (QIFS)

Kalgin Global Logistics, the leader in Pacific Islands logistics services, today announced it has acquired Queensland International Freight Services (QIFS).

QIFS has been providing all facets of international freight solutions to its customers since 1988 through its Brisbane Head Office. It’s founder and Managing Director, Nancy Atkins, has passionately built a strong brand over the last 33 years supported by an amazing group of industry professionals.

As the market leader in the Papua New Guinea trade, QIFS is a perfect fit for Kalgin. Kalgin was established in Sydney in 1989 and today has offices throughout Australia, New Zealand and Fiji supported by a dynamic global partner network. Kalgin is the market leader in the Pacific Islands trade with services operating from all corners of the world into & out of the region.

Kalgin Managing Director, Richard Lamport, sees this as a key milestone in the group’s long-term plans. “We are incredibly proud & excited to enhance our service offering into the PNG market and welcome the QIFS team into the Kalgin family.”

We look forward to delivering new levels of customer experience for all QIFS customers and sharing with them Kalgin’s core ethos of delivering dependability.
