

GRAIN TRADE CARGO STOCK THROUGHPUT COVER

TT Club provides cover for loss or damage to grain, both in storage and transit to owners of goods within the Australian grain industry.

The seamless cover for static and in-transit grain is available to storage facilities, bulk inland terminals, bulk marine terminals, transport operators, grain traders and others with a first-party interest in goods operating in the Australian market whether inland or import/export.

“They have a specialized niche in the marketplace, they are flexible to provide creative covers in association with the client’s operations.”

WHY TT CLUB?

TT Club is the leading provider of insurance and related risk management services to the international transport and logistics industry.

For businesses transporting goods around the world, we provide the insurance you need for the risks you face. 'TT' stands for 'through transport', reflecting the door-to-door nature of these risks.

Of course, many operators are only involved in a specific part of the supply chain process, which is why we always ensure our cover is tailored to your particular requirements. So you only pay for what you need – no more and no less.

And we work with all sorts of customers – from some of the world's largest logistics operators, shipping lines, ports, freight forwarders and cargo handling terminals, to companies operating on a smaller scale but whose activities face similar risks.

We have an excellent annual retention rate: 95%. In fact, many of our customers have been with the Club for over 20 years. They continue to choose TT Club because of the value of our underwriting, claims and loss prevention expertise and support.
